

Facilitation and Mediation of Public and Environmental Conflicts: Practical Strategies for Reaching Agreement

November 2-4, 2010

Trainers: Chris Moore and Jonathan Bartsch

Chautauqua Community House,
Colorado Chautauqua Association
900 Baseline Road, Boulder, Colorado

$900 (Early, more than 30 days prior to course date - by postmark)

$950 (Regular, less than 30 days prior to course date - by postmark)

Special pricing - register two or more participants for cost of $850/person

The course includes a light breakfast and afternoon snacks each day, as well as a cocktail party for participants.

To register, please access the form on www.mediate.org

For questions, contact Ruth Gardner at rgardner@mediate.org or (303) 442-7367 x 208

What can I expect to learn? Specifically, you will:

- Better understand the complexities and dynamics of multi-party conflicts
- Learn how to different parties - public & private sector leaders, tribal officials, government agency personnel, public interest group advocates, technical experts, lawyers, the media, and citizens - engage in conflict, and how you can work more effectively with each
- Learn how to conduct situation assessments, both a “back-of-the-envelope” approach and an in depth process to examine conflicts and design more effective resolution strategies
- Develop your capacity to design and implement effective and inclusive collaborative processes
- Develop, improve, and apply your Interest Based Negotiation (IBN) skills
- Improve your facilitation and mediation skills through engagement in simulated public conflicts with our one-on-one coaching
- Incorporate appropriate information and modeling technologies into your dispute resolution initiatives